

Nicola Stobbs

Consultant ENT – Head and Neck Surgeon
Sheffield Teaching Hospitals/Sheffield Children's Hospital

Nicola Stobbs is a Consultant ENT – Head and Neck surgeon at Sheffield Teaching Hospitals having completed her postgraduate training in the Northwest and Yorkshire and completed a nationally appointed head and Neck Oncology TIG fellowship in 2022-2023.

Her clinical work focuses on major ablative cases, and she has a particular interest in Salivary gland tumours and complex metastatic skin cancer involving the parotid and neck.

She has an interest in medical education having undertaken an MSc in medical education and subsequently teaching and examining in Manchester on the Medical education MSc. She is currently involved in undergraduate and postgraduate training and supervision in Sheffield and after time out for maternity leave and previously working LTFT, she has undergone mentoring training to be able to support other colleagues returning to work after time out.

Outside of work she has two young children which keep her very busy!

Member of Sheffield Hallamshire Ladies Circle, Past-Chairwoman 2018-2019, charity officer 2021-2022 and current secretary.